Freightmasters joins Towne Air Freight Network

October 2009 South Bend, IN—Minneapolis, MN based Freightmasters, will join nationwide air and ocean freight trucking company Towne Air Freight's network of transportation providers in early November 2009. The two companies have been working together for some time and Freightmasters recently made the decision to join the Towne team in order to better serve its customer base.

Freightmasters' drivers and trucking equipment will be contracted exclusively to Towne by Freightmasters. Towne intends to hire certain Freightmasters' employees and will sublet its office and warehouse space.

"We're excited to add the expertise and reach of the Freightmasters operation to ours," said Tom Downey, Towne Air Freight President/CEO. "Bringing Freightmasters into our network of transportation providers increases our capacity and flexibility within the Minneapolis market and strengthens our LTL and dedicated transportation network throughout the Midwest."

"I'm very proud of the success we've achieved as a local company with high caliber people and top-notch assets," said Ron Have, owner of Freightmasters. "It seemed like a natural progression to become more closely linked with a nationwide company which shares our dedication to customer service and growth. We've found that in Towne Air Freight."

Customers will continue to receive the same world-class service to which they've become accustomed as Freightmasters business transitions to operating under the Towne Air Freight name. After the transition, customers will be presented their invoices from Towne Air Freight.
